

What is the best floor for me?

We know that there are many flooring products to fit different applications of today's lifestyles, and it can become overwhelming. It is our desire to provide the exceptional product knowledge and design to assist our clients in making these decisions. We offer a large showroom of various and exclusive products so that you can select a product that is not only functional and brings value, but also makes a statement of your own personal style that you can enjoy for years. Today's floor fashion trends use a lot of eco-friendly and natural products from wool carpets, cork flooring, bamboo hardwood, natural tile and stones, and recycled products. It's important that you also evaluate your existing flooring structure and what labor is going to be involved to make it acceptable for the new floor. Once you have your new floor you want to know what will be involved in cleaning maintenance. Most customers today want to minimize the maintenance of flooring. It's Carlson's desire that you feel the passion we have for flooring and that you are satisfied with your flooring experience!
